BLAKE ON RIEL.

ELOQUENT DENUNCIATION OF THE SCOT

MURDER.

The following is an extract from the Toronto Globe's report of the proceedings in the Ontario Legislature, on February 3, 1886.

Mr. Blake moved the following resolution:

"That the cold-blooded murder (for his outrageous crime) of Thomas Scott, lately a resident of the province, and an emigrant to the North West, has imposed this House with a duty of grave and indignation, and in the opinion of this House every effort should be made to bring to trial the perpetrators of the great crime, who as yet go unpunished of justice."

After tracing the progress of the rebellion of 1870, Mr. Blake said: "Now, sir,

I turn to the particular event with which my motive has to deal. Riel, at an early period of the rebellion, was a man of energy, and as I have frankly stated, some ground for dissatisfaction, but while I am not prepared to admit that I cannot go as

Dr. Tupper, who sat in Parliament from what he had seen in the Northwest people were almost justified in what they did. While I am disposed to trist anything which may properly be called a political offence, I do not think this a political offence, it is this murder as a political offence, if it was to be treated. I call your attention, sir, to the mode in which the political crime of the victim was treated by Riel. What, I ask, was his crime? It was loyalty to the Government, and the fact that he was loyal to the country. For this he was dead in a way which I will presently show before the House. I am not before the House. I am not

before the House. I am not

THE ORANGE BOB.

The agitation in this province against the Government has been the exception of Riel was admitted based on the pretext that the fanaticism of Orange men had stayed out of the ministry from interfering with the course of law.

for the Government has been shown.

The natural good taste of the undersigned, supplied with an earnest desire to turn an honpenney, have secured it to the citizens of Bellefonte and surrounding country a rare opportunity for adornment.

Nothing so tends to elevate a man in the estimation of his fellows as the possession of a respectable head dress.

A balance at his banker's is of minor importance.

DEAR SIR,—I received the truss I ordered from you on the 5th inst., and applied it the same day, and I can with confidence say it is the best thing I ever had for ease and comfort for holding back the hernia for it has never theroed me since I first put it on. I can recommend it with confidence to any who are afflicted with rupture. I am very glad I ever heard anything about you. If I had known about you when I was first ruptured, I firmly believe I and have been well a long time ago. I have unknowingly a hundred dollars heretofore trying relief, but all of no avail.

Yours truly,

GEORGE LONG.
